BASIS FOR REJECTIONS

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS ON FORMAL MATTERS

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 10 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. (1) As to claim 10, specifying that the "third recess is to have the dummy function" is contrary to the claimed subject matter of claim 1 since claim 1 specifies the second recess to have the dummy function. Accordingly, this subject matter is found indefinite and the scope of the subject matter is vague. (2) With reference to claim 22, it is unclear what part of the die is incorporated within the forging apparatus. Furthermore, since the male die of claim 1 specifies “forging”, it appears that claiming “forging apparatus” and “male die” are duplicative. The scope of the subject matter is indeterminate.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS OVER PRIOR ART

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Almqvist (4,434,643). See Figures 2-4 where the second punches 11, 12 are situated at the end of the rows of the first punches 7.

Claims 1, 2, 6 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Miller (3,748,889). See Figure 1 where the first forging punches 24-32 are mounted between the second forging punches 22, 34.

Claims 1, 2, 3, 9 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rork (2,835,960). See Figures 7-9 where the die 14 is provided with first forging punches (see Figure 9) for forming first recesses, which are defined as that area between the ribs 12 (Figure 5), in the plate and second forging punches 22a for forming second recesses, which are defined as that area between the ribs 34.

Claims 1, 7 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sipila (6,167,739). See Figures 1, 4 and 5 for a showing of the die 30a with the first forging punches forming the recesses 12 and 13 and the second forging punches forming the recesses 11 and 14.

Art Unit: 3725

Claims 1, 2, 6 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Matsumoto (6,681,612). See Figure 1 where the die 11 has a plurality of first and second forging punches provided on the surface 11a of the die 11. The recesses 2 define the punches.

Claims 3, 7, 8, 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matsumoto (6,681,612). Matsumoto shows that the die 11 can have forging punches that are defined by recess 2 that can have same or different or varied spacing (column 4, lines 31-44) and recesses of varied thicknesses (column 5, lines 22-33). Accordingly, Matsumoto contemplates a number of different arrangements for the punches sizing and spacing. It is the examiner's position that the skilled artisan having the benefit of the concepts taught by Masumoto would have made obvious the provision of varying the thickness (gap) or spacing between the punches as the need arises. Clearly, spacing and sizing of the punches would have been determined based upon the desired shaping of the golf head.

INDICATION OF ALLOWABLE SUBJECT MATTER

Claims 4-5 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

WITHDRAWAL OF NONELECTED CLAIMS

Claims 13-21 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on January 28, 2005.

PRIOR ART CITED BY EXAMINER

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

RESPONSE BY APPLICANT(S)

Applicant(s) response to be fully responsive and to provide for a clear record must specifically point out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references, both those references applied in the objections and rejections and those references cited in view of the state of the art in accordance with 37 CFR 1.111 (a), (b) and (c).
